8. (1) The President in terms of Article 8 of the Constitution is the Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces and shall be referred to as the Supreme Commander of such Forces for the purposes of this Act, except as otherwise provided herein.

Supreme
Commander, etc.

(2) The Supreme Commander may appoint—

(a) an officer of the Armed Forces to be known as the Chief of Defence Staff who shall, subject to the general direction of the Supreme Commander and such regulations as may be prescribed, be charged with the responsibility for the administration of the Armed Forces as a whole;

(b) an officer to be Army Chief of Staff who shall, subject to the general direction of the Supreme Commander and such regulations as may be prescribed, be charged with the control and administration of the Army of Ghana;

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

- (c) an officer to be Chief of Naval Staff who shall, subject to the general direction of the Supreme Commander and such regulations as may be prescribed, be charged with the control and administration of the Navy of Ghana; and
- (d) an officer to be Chief of Air Staff of Ghana who shall, subject to the general direction of the Supreme Commander and such regulations as may be prescribed, be charged with the control and administration of the Air Force of Ghana.

(3) The Chief of Defence Staff and each other Chief of Staff referred to in subsection (2) may delegate to any officer under his command such of his functions, other than the said function of delegation, as he may from time to time deem expedient.

Employment of civilians.

9. Civilian employees may be appointed in such numbers, for such purposes, in such manner and under such conditions of service, as may be prescribed.

Board of Inquiry.

10. The President or any person authorised in that behalf by him or any prescribed person may, where he or such person thinks it expedient that information on any matter connected with the government, discipline, administration or functions of the Armed Forces or affecting any officer or men of the said Forces is necessary, convene a Board of Inquiry for investigating and reporting on such matter. That Board of Inquiry shall be constituted, and its procedure shall be governed, in accordance with regulations made under this Act.

Defence Committee.

11. (1) There shall be established for the purposes of this Act a Defence Committee consisting of the Supreme Commander, the Minister responsible for Defence, the Chief of the Defence Staff, the Army Chief of Staff, the Chief of the Naval Staff, and the Chief of Air Staff and such other persons as the Supreme Commander may by executive instrument in the form of an order appoint.

(2) The Chairman at any meeting of the Defence Committee shall be the Supreme Commander:

Provided that, if the Supreme Commander is not present at a meeting, the Chairman shall be such person as the Supreme Commander may appoint.

(3) The Defence Committee shall advise the Supreme Commander on all matters connected with the control and administration of the Armed Forces:

*Armed Forces Act, 1962Act 105

Provided that the Committee shall not concern itself with the operational use of the Armed Forces, which shall be the responsibility of the Chief of the Defence Staff, subject to the general direction and control of the Supreme Commander.

PART II—PERSONS SUBJECT TO CODE OF SERVICE DISCIPLINE, SERVICE OFFENCES, ETC.

12. (1) The following persons, and no others, shall be subject to the Code of Service Discipline:

Persons subject of the Code of Service
Discipline.

- (a) every officer and man of each Regular Force;
- (b) every officer and man of each Regular Reserve, Volunteer Force and Volunteer Reserve when he is—

(4) A person charged with any of the offences specified in section 24, may be found guilty of any other offence specified in that section.

(5) A person charged with a service offence may, on failure of proof of an offence having been committed under circumstances involving a higher punishment, be found guilty of the same offence as having been committed under circumstances involving a lower punishment.

(6) Where a person is charged with an offence under section 77 and the charge is one upon which, if had been tried by a civil court in Ghana for that offence, he might have been found guilty of any other offence, he may be found guilty of that other offence.

PART III—TRIAL AND PUNISHMENT OF SERVICE OFFENCES

57. (1) Every person who has committed, is found committing, is suspected of being about to commit, or is suspected of or charged under this Act with having committed a service offence, may be placed under arrest.

Arrest
generally.

(2) Every person authorised to effect arrest under this Act or under regulations made thereunder may use such force as is reasonably necessary for that purpose.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

Powers of officers and men relating to arrest.

58. (1) An officer may, without a warrant, in the circumstances mentioned in section 57 arrest or order the arrest of—

- (a) any man;
- (b) any officer of equal or lower rank; and
- (c) any officer of higher rank who is engaged in a quarrel or fray or in any disorder.

(2) A man may, without a warrant, in the circumstances mentioned in section 57, arrest or order the arrest of—

- (a) any man of lower rank; and
- (b) any man of equal or higher rank who is engaged in a quarrel or fray or in any disorder.

(3) An order given under subsection (1) or subsection (2) shall be obeyed although the person giving the order and the person to whom and the person in respect of whom the order is given do not belong to the same Force, unit or other element of the Armed Forces.

(4) Every person who is not an officer or man, but who was subject to the Code of Service Discipline at the time of the alleged commission by him of a service offence, may without a warrant be arrested or ordered to be arrested by such person as any commanding officer may designate for that purpose.

59. Such officers and men as are appointed under regulations for the purposes of this section may—

- (a) detain or arrest with a warrant any person who is subject to the Code of Service Discipline, regardless of the rank or status of that person, who has committed, is found committing, is suspected of being about to commit, or is suspected of or charged under this Act with having committed a service offence; and
- (b) exercise such other powers for carrying out the Code of Service Discipline as may be prescribed.

60. (1) A person arrested under this Part may forthwith on his apprehension be placed in civil custody or service custody or be taken to the unit or formation with which he is serving or to any other unit or formation of the Armed Forces, and such force as is reasonably necessary for the purposes of this section may be used.

(2) An officer or man commanding a guard, guardroom or safeguard or an officer or man appointed under section 59 shall receive and keep a person who is under arrest pursuant to this Act and who is committed to his custody, but it shall be the duty of the officer, man or other person who commits a person into custody to deliver at the time of such committal, or as soon as practical and in any case within twenty-four hours thereafter, to the officer or man into whose custody that person is committed, an account in writing, signed by himself, in which is stated the reason why the person so committed is to be held in custody.

(3) An officer or man who, pursuant to subsection (2), receives a person committed to his custody shall, as soon as practical and in any case within twenty-four hours thereafter, give in writing to the officer or man to whom it is his duty to report, the name of that person and an account of the offence alleged to have been committed by that person so far as is known and the name and rank of the officer, man or other person by whom the person so committed was placed in custody, accompanied by any account in writing which has been submitted pursuant to subsection (2).

61. (1) Where a person triable under the Code of Service Discipline has been placed under arrest for a service offence and remains in custody for eight days without a summary trial having been held or a court martial for his trial having been ordered to assemble, a report stating the necessity for further delay shall be made by his commanding officer to the authority who is empowered to convene a court martial for the trial of that person, and a similar report shall be forwarded in the same manner every eighth day until a summary trial has been held or a court martial has been ordered to assemble.

delay of trial, etc.

(2) Every person held in custody in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (1) who has been continuously so held for a period of twenty-eight days without summary trial having been held or a court martial having been ordered to assemble, shall at the expiration of that period be entitled to send to the President, or to such other authority as the President may appoint in writing for that purpose, a petition to be freed from custody or for the disposal of the case and in any event that person shall be so freed when a period of ninety days continuous custody from the time of his arrest has expired, unless a summary trial has been held or a court martial has been ordered to assemble.

(3) A person who has been freed from custody pursuant to subsection (2) shall not be subject to re-arrest for the offence with which he was originally charged, except on the written order of an authority having power to convene a court martial for his trial.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

Alleged charge to be reported to commanding officer, etc.

Trials by commanding officer, etc.

62. Before an allegation against a person that he has committed a service offence is proceeded with, the allegation shall be reported in the form of a charge to that person's commanding officer. Where such officer is satisfied that the charge should not be proceeded with, he shall dismiss the charge; but otherwise the charge shall be proceeded with under this Act as expeditiously as circumstances permit.

63. (1) A commanding officer may in his discretion try an accused person by summary trial, but only if all of the following conditions are satisfied,—

- (a) the accused person is either a subordinate officer or a man below the rank of warrant officer;
- (b) having regard to the gravity of the offence, the commanding officer considers that his powers of punishment are adequate;
- (c) the commanding officer is not precluded from trying the accused person by reason of his election, under regulations made under this Act, to be tried by court martial; and
- (d) the offence is not one that under such regulations the commanding officer is precluded from trying.

(2) Subject as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, a commanding officer at a summary trial may pass a sentence in which any one or more of the following punishments may be included:—

- (a) detention for a period not exceeding ninety days subject to the following provisions:—
 - (i) a punishment of detention imposed by a commanding officer upon a chief petty officer, petty officer, non-commissioned officer or leading rating shall not be carried into effect until approved by an approving authority and only to the extent so approved; and
 - (ii) where a commanding officer imposes more than thirty days detention, the portion in excess of thirty shall be effective only if approved by, and to the extent approved by, an approving authority;
- (b) reduction in rank, but a punishment of reduction in rank imposed by a commanding officer shall be effective if approved by, and to the extent approved by, an approving authority;
- (c) forfeiture of seniority;
- (d) severe reprimand;

Act 105

- (e) reprimand;
- (f) a fine not exceeding basic pay for one month;
- (g) stoppages, and
- (h) such minor punishments as may be prescribed.

Each of the above punishments shall be deemed to be a punishment less than every punishment preceding it in the above scale.

(3) In subsection (2) "approving authority" means—

- (a) any officer not below the rank of commodore, brigadier or air commodore; or
- (b) any officer not below the naval rank of captain or below the rank of colonel or group captain designated by the President or any person authorised in that behalf by him as an approving authority for the purposes of this subsection.

(4) A commanding officer may, subject to such matters as may be prescribed, and to such extent as the commanding officer deems fit, delegate his powers under this section to any officer under his command, but an officer to whom powers are so delegated may not be authorised to impose punishment other than the following:—

- (a) detention not exceeding fourteen days;
- (b) severe reprimand;
- (c) reprimand;
- (d) a fine not exceeding basic pay for fourteen days; and
- (e) such other minor punishments as may be prescribed.

(5) Where a commanding officer tries an accused person by summary trial, the evidence shall be taken on oath if the commanding officer so directs or the accused person so requests, and the commanding officer shall inform the accused person of his right so to request.

(6) Such punishments as are specified in regulations to require approval before they may be imposed by a commanding officer, shall not be so imposed until approval has been obtained.

64. (1) An officer of or above the rank of commodore, brigadier or air commodore, or any other officer prescribed or appointed by the President for that purpose, such officer being referred to in this section as a "superior commander", may in his discretion try by summary trial an officer below the rank of commander, lieutenant-colonel or wing commander, or a warrant officer, charged with having committed a service offence.

Trials by superior commanders.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

(2) A superior commander may, who or without hearing the evidence, dismiss a charge if he considers that it should not be proceeded with; but otherwise shall cause it to be proceeded with as expeditiously as circumstances permit.

(3) Subject as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, a superior commander at a summary trial may pass a sentence in which any one or more of the following punishments may be included:

- (a) forfeiture of seniority;
- (b) severe reprimand;
- (c) reprimand; and
- (d) fine.

(4) A superior commander shall not try an accused person who, by reason of an election under regulations is entitled to be tried by court martial.

(5) Where a superior commander tries an accused person by summary trial, the evidence shall be taken on oath if the superior commander so directs or the accused person so requests, and the superior commander shall inform the accused person of his right so to request.

Convening authorities.

65. (1) The President or such other authorities as may be authorised in that behalf by him may convene general courts-martial and disciplinary courts martial.

(5) Any authority who convenes a court martial under subsection (1) may appoint as members of the court martial, officers of the Army of Ghana, Navy of Ghana, or Air Force of Ghana or officers of any navy, army or air force, who are attached, seconded or loaned to the Armed Forces.

- (f) an officer who is under the age of twenty-one years
- (g) an officer below the naval rank of lieutenant, the army rank of captain or the air force rank of flight-lieutenant or
- (h) any person who prior to the court-martial participated in any investigation respecting the matters upon which a charge against the accused person is founded.

70. (1) A disciplinary court martial shall consist of not less than three officers and not more than such number of officers as may be prescribed. Number of members of disciplinary court-martial.

(2) The president of a disciplinary court martial shall be appointed by the authority convening the disciplinary court martial or by an officer empowered by that authority to appoint such president.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

(3) The president of a disciplinary court martial shall be an officer of or above the rank of lieutenant-commander, major or squadron-leader or of or above such higher rank as may be prescribed.

Jurisdiction of disciplinary court martial.

71. Subject to any limitation prescribed in regulations made under this Act, a disciplinary court martial may try any person subject to the Code of Service Discipline who is alleged to have committed a service offence.

Punishment by disciplinary court martial.

72. A disciplinary court martial shall not pass a sentence including a punishment higher in the scale of punishments than dismissal with disgrace from the Armed Forces, or higher than such other punishments as may be prescribed; but no such other punishment shall be higher in the scale of punishments than dismissal with disgrace from those Forces.

Judge advocate of disciplinary court martial.

73. The Chief Justice may appoint a person to officiate as judge advocate at a disciplinary court martial.

Judge Advocate-General.

73A. (1) Notwithstanding anything in sections 68 and 73 of this Act, the Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces may, after consultation with the Chief Justice, appoint a person to be known as the Judge Advocate-General of the Ghana Armed Forces to officiate generally at courts martial as a judge advocate and to perform such other functions as the Commander-in-Chief may from time to time assign to him.

(2) The conditions of service of the Judge Advocate-General shall, so far as practicable, be the same as those applicable to judges of the High Court or of the Court of Appeal so however, that the remuneration of the Judge Advocate-General shall be paid out of the funds of the Ghana Armed Forces.

hard labour, but in the case of a punishment of imprisonment for less than two years, the President or such other person as he may authorise in that behalf may order that such punishment shall be without hard labour.

(5) Where a service tribunal imposes a punishment of dismissal with disgrace from the Armed Forces upon an officer or man, the service tribunal may in addition, notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, impose a punishment of imprisonment for less than two years.

(6) A person upon whom a punishment of dismissal with disgrace from the Armed Forces has been carried out shall not, except in an emergency or unless that punishment is subsequently set aside or altered, be eligible to serve the Republic of Ghana again in any military or civil capacity.

(7) The punishment of detention shall be subject to the following conditions:

- (a) detention shall not exceed two years and a person sentenced to detention shall not be subject to detention for more than two years consecutively by reason of more than one conviction;
- (b) no officer may be sentenced to detention; and
- (c) in the case of a chief petty officer, petty officer or leading rating in the Navy of Ghana or a warrant officer or non-commissioned officer in the Army of Ghana or the Air Force of Ghana, a sentence that includes a punishment of detention shall be deemed to include a punishment of reduction in rank to the lowest rank to which under regulations he can be reduced, whether or not the last-mentioned punishment is specified in the sentence passed by the service tribunal.

(8) The punishment of reduction in rank shall apply to officers, warrant officers, chief petty officers, petty officers, non-commissioned officers and leading ratings.

(9) The punishment of reduction in rank shall not—

- (a) involve reduction to a rank lower than that to which under regulations the offender can be reduced;
- (b) in the case of a commissioned officer, involve reduction to a rank lower than commissioned rank; and
- (c) in the case of a subordinate officer, involve reduction to a rank lower than an inferior grade of subordinate officer.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

(10) Where an officer or man has been sentenced to forfeiture of seniority, the service tribunal imposing the punishment shall in passing sentence specify the period for which seniority is to be forfeited.

(11) The punishment of dismissal of an officer from the ship to which he belongs shall apply only to officers of the Navy of Ghana.

(12) A fine shall be imposed in a stated amount and shall not exceed, in the case of an officer or man, three months basic pay, and in the case of any other person the sum of £100, and the terms of payment of a fine shall lie within the discretion of the commanding officer of the person so punished.

(13) Stoppages shall be effected in the manner prescribed in regulations.

(14) The authority of a service tribunal to impose punishments may be limited in accordance with regulations.

(15) Where a person is under a sentence imposed by a service tribunal that includes a punishment involving incarceration and another service tribunal subsequently passes a new sentence that also includes a punishment involving incarceration, both punishments of incarceration shall, from the date of the pronouncement of the new sentence, run concurrently, but the punishment higher in the scale of punishments shall be served first.

No limitation.

79. (1) Every person alleged to have committed a service offence may be charged, dealt with and tried under the Code of Service Discipline, whether the alleged offence was committed in Ghana or out of Ghana:

Provided that a service tribunal shall not try any person charged with the offence of murder, rape and manslaughter, committed in Ghana.

(2) Every person alleged to have committed a service offence may be charged, dealt with and tried under the Code of Service Discipline, either in Ghana or out of Ghana.

Time bar.

80. (1) Except in respect of service offences mentioned in subsection (2), no person shall be liable to be tried by a service tribunal unless his trial begins before the expiration of a period of three years from the day upon which the service offence was alleged to have been committed.

(2) Every person subject to the Code of Service Discipline at the time of the alleged commission by him of the service offence of mutiny, desertion or absence without leave or a service offence for which the maximum punishment that may be imposed is death, shall continue to be liable to be charged, dealt with and tried at any time under that Code.

(3) In calculating the period of limitation referred to in subsection (1), there shall not be included—

- (a) time during which a person was a prisoner of war;
- (b) any period of absence in respect of which a person has been found guilty by any service tribunal of desertion or absence without leave; and
- (c) any time during which a person was serving a sentence of incarceration imposed by any court other than a service tribunal.

81. (1) Every person, in respect of whom a charge of having committed a service offence has been dismissed, or who has been found guilty or not guilty either by a service tribunal or a civil court on a charge of having committed any such offence shall not be tried or tried again by a service tribunal under this Act in respect of that offence or any other offence of which he might have been found guilty on that charge by a service tribunal or a civil court.

Autrefois acquit and autrefois convict.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) shall affect the validity of a new trial ordered under section 84 or section 92.

82. (1) The President or such other authorities as may be authorised in that behalf by him may quash any finding of guilty made by a service tribunal.

Quashing of findings of service tribunals.

(2) Where, after a finding of guilty has been quashed, no other findings of guilty remains the whole of the sentence passed by the service tribunal shall cease to have force and effect.

(3) Where, after a finding of guilty has been quashed, another finding of guilty remains, and any punishment included in the sentence passed by the service tribunal is in excess of the punishment authorised by this Act in respect of the findings of guilty which remain, or is, in the opinion of the authority who quashed the finding, unduly severe, such authority shall subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, substitute such new punishment or punishments as such authority considers appropriate.

83. (1) The President or such other authorities as may be authorised in that behalf by him may—

- (a) substitute a new finding for any finding of guilty, made by a service tribunal, that is illegal or cannot be supported by the evidence, if the new finding could validly have been made by the service tribunal on the charge and if it appears that the service tribunal was satisfied of the fact establishing the offence specified or involved in the new finding;

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

- (b) substitute for the finding of guilty made by a service tribunal a new finding of guilty of some other offence if—
- (i) the tribunal could on the charge have found the offender guilty under section 56 of that other offence;
 - (ii) the tribunal could have found the offender guilty of that other offence on any alternative charge that was laid, and it appears that the facts proved him guilty of that other offence.

(2) Where a new finding has been substituted for a finding made by a service tribunal and any punishment included in the sentence passed by the service tribunal is in excess of the punishment authorised by this Act in respect of the new finding, or is in the opinion of the authority who substituted the new finding, unduly severe, such authority shall, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, substitute such new punishment or punishments as the authority considers appropriate.

New trial

84. (1) Where a service tribunal has found a person guilty of an offence and the Commander of the appropriate Armed Force considers that a new trial is advisable by reason of an irregularity in law in the proceedings before the service tribunal, he may set aside the finding of guilty and direct a new trial, in which case that person shall be tried again for that offence as if no previous trial had been held.

(2) Where at a new trial held pursuant to this section a person is found guilty—

- (a) the new punishment shall not be higher in the scale of punishments than the punishment imposed by the service tribunal in the first instance;
- (b) if the new punishment includes a term of incarceration, there shall be deducted from that term any time during which the offender had been incarcerated following the pronouncement of the previous sentence; and
- (c) if the new punishment is in the same paragraph in the scale of punishments as the punishment imposed by the service tribunal in the first instance, the new punishment shall not be in excess of the previous punishment.

*Armed Forces Act, 1962Act 105

(3) The President may dispense with any new trial directed under this section or under section 92.

85. Where a service tribunal has passed a sentence in which is included an illegal punishment, the President or any other authority authorised in that behalf by him may, subject to such conditions as may be proscribed, substitute for the illegal punishment such new punishment as such authority considers appropriate.

Substitution of punishments for original punishments of service tribunals.

86. The President or such other authority as may be authorised in that behalf by him may, subject to such conditions as may be proscribed, mitigate, commute or remit any or all of the punishments included in a sentence passed by a service tribunal.

President's power to mitigate punishments, etc.

87. Where under the authority of this Act, a new punishment, by reason of substitution or commutation replaces a punishment imposed by a service tribunal, the new punishment shall have force and effect as if it had been imposed by the service tribunal in the first instance and the provisions of the Code of Service Discipline shall apply accordingly; but where the new punishment involves incarceration, the term of the new punishment shall be reckoned from the date of substitution or commutation, as the case may be.

Effect of new punishment.

88. Nothing in the succeeding provisions of this Part shall be in derogation of the powers conferred under this Act to quash findings or alter findings and sentences.

Saving provision.

89. (1) There shall be a Court Martial Appeal Court which shall hear and determine all appeals referred to it under this Act from decisions of a court martial, whether general or disciplinary.

Establishment of Court Martial Appeal Court, etc.

(2) The composition, appointment, or qualifications of members, procedure and any other matters connected with or incidental to the Court Martial Appeal Court shall be in accordance with such regulations as may be proscribed.

90. Every person who has been tried and found guilty by a court martial shall, have a right to appeal to the Court Martial Appeal Court, in such form, manner and within such time as may be proscribed in respect of either or both the following matters:—

Jurisdiction of Court Martial Appeal Court.

(a) the legality of any or all of the findings; and

(b) the legality of the whole or any part of the sentence.

91. Notwithstanding anything in this part, the Court Martial Appeal Court may disallow an appeal if, in the opinion of the Court, to be expressed in writing, there has been no substantial miscarriage of justice.

Special power of Court Martial Appeal Court to disallow appeal.

Act 105

Armed Forces Act, 1962

Court
 Martial
 Appeal
 Court to set aside appeal, etc.

92. (1) Upon the hearing of an appeal respecting the legality of a finding of guilty on any charge, the Court Martial Appeal Court, if it allows the appeal, shall—

- (a) set aside the finding and direct a finding of not guilty to be recorded in respect of that charge; or
- (b) direct a new trial on that charge, in which case the appellant shall be tried again as if no trial on that charge had been held.

(2) Where the Court Martial Appeal Court has set aside a finding of guilty and no other finding of guilty remains, the whole of the sentence shall cease to have a force and effect.

(3) Where the Court Martial Appeal Court has set aside a finding of guilty but another findings of guilty remains, the Court shall forthwith refer the proceedings to the President, or to such other authority as may be authorised in that behalf by him who shall—

- (a) affirm the punishment imposed by the court martial if the court martial could legally have imposed that punishment upon the finding of guilty that remains; or
- (b) subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, substitute for the punishment imposed by the court martial such new punishment or punishments as such authority considers appropriate.

(4) Where an appellant has been found guilty of an offence and the court martial could on the charge have found him guilty under section 56 of some other offence, or could have found him guilty of some other offence on any alternative charge that was laid, and on the actual finding it appears to the Court Martial Appeal Court that the facts proved him guilty of that other offence, the Court may, instead of allowing or dismissing the appeal, substitute for the finding of guilty made by the court martial a finding of guilty of that other offence, and the Court shall forthwith refer to proceedings to the President, or to such other authority as may be authorised in that behalf by him who shall—

- (a) affirm the punishment imposed by the court martial if the court martial could legally have imposed the punishment upon the substituted finding of guilty; or
- (b) subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, substitute for the punishment imposed by the court martial such new punishment or punishments as such authority considers appropriate.

*Armed Forces Act, 1962Act 105

(5) Where, pursuant to subsection (3) or (4), a new punishment is substituted, the punishment imposed by the court martial thereupon shall cease to have effect and section 87 shall apply to the new punishment or punishments.

93. Upon the hearing of an appeal respecting the legality of a sentence passed by a court martial, the Court Martial Appeal Court, if it allows the appeal, shall forthwith refer the proceedings to the President or to such other authority authorised in that behalf by him who shall, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, substitute for the punishment imposed by the court martial such new punishment or punishments as such authority considers appropriate and every punishment comprised in the sentence passed by the court-martial shall thereupon cease to have force and effect; and section 87 shall apply to the new punishment or punishments.

Substitution of new punishment for illegal punishment set aside.

94. Where a punishment included in a sentence has been dealt with pursuant to subsection (3) of section 92 or section 93, the new punishment shall be subject to mitigation, commutation, remission or suspension in the same manner and to the same extent as if it has been passed by the court martial that tried the appellant.

New punishments subject to President's power of mitigation.

95. (1) Nothing in the Code of Service Discipline affects the jurisdiction of any civil court to try a person for any offence triable by that Court.

Jurisdiction of civil courts.

(2) Where a person, sentenced by a service tribunal in respect of a conviction on a charge of having committed a service offence, is afterwards tried by a civil court for the same offence or for any other offence of which he might have been found guilty on that charge, the civil court shall in awarding punishment take into account any punishment imposed by the service tribunal for the service offence.

(3) Where a civil court that tries a person in the circumstances specified in subsection (2) either acquits or convicts the person of an offence, the unexpired term of any punishment of imprisonment for more than two years, imprisonment for less than two years or detention, imposed by the service tribunal in respect of that offence, shall be deemed to be wholly remitted as from the date of the acquittal or conviction by the civil court.

96. Where any person subject to the Code of Service Discipline has at any time been tried by a civil court, an officer of that court authorised in that behalf by the Judge or District Magistrate thereof, as the case may be, shall, if required by any officer of the Armed Certificate of civil court.
